ID	Goal	Setup	Expected	Method
Web1	Test if the program can display a calendar from google in its respective room	Ensure the RoomData.xml contains rooms with valid CalendarID's. Click on a room's button.	The calendar will display the corresponding calendar according to the room chosen.	Manual
Web2	Test if the program lets you register an account	Run the program and hit register. Fill in account details for a new account.	Program registers the account and logs the user in.	Manual
Web3	Test if the program lets you register an account that is already verified under an email	Run the program and hit register. Fill in account details for an existing account.	Program denies the account from being registered with the message "Username 'email' is already taken".	Manual
Web4	Test if the program lets you login to an account that exists	Run the program and hit login. Fill in account details for an existing account.	Program logs the user in and displays a logout button in the top right along with their username.	Manual
Web5	Test if the program lets you login to an account that doesn't exist	Run the program and hit login. Fill in account details for a non-existent account.	Program denies login with message "Invalid login attempt".	Manual
Web6	Test if the program Displays the map page at start of program	Run the program.	Program opens to the default map page of T101.	Manual
Web7	Test if the program lets you access T101's page specifically and displays details of the room	Click the T101 button on the map.	Program opens T101's page with all the corresponding details.	Manual
Web8	Test if the logout button logs the user out	Hit logout as a logged in user. Test out restricted pages such as schedule a room.	Logs the user out of the program. Can no longer access restricted pages.	Manual

Web9	Test if the user can access the schedule a room page without being logged in	Copy paste the URL when the program is running and try to access the page with a direct link.	The program will block the user out of accessing the page unless they are logged in	Manual
Web10	Test if the user can access the schedule a room page while being logged in	Click the button on the schedule page which says "Click here to schedule a room"	Program will bring you to the schedule room page for the appropriate calendar.	Manual
Web11	Test if the user can access their profile page where they can edit their accounts settings	Click on the user's name in the top right.	The program will bring the user to their account settings page.	Manual
Web12	Test if the program lets you access the view upcoming events page	Click the button on the schedule page which says "Click here to see upcoming events"	Opens the corresponding page with the list of upcoming events	Manual
Web13	Test if the program lets you properly schedule a room using the GUI provided	Click on the schedule room button in the schedule page. Fill out the required details and hit "Schedule Now"	Returns the user to the map page. Adds the event to the google calendar and displays it when the student reopens the room.	Manual